WEDDING PLANNING – ‘TURNKEY’

You are getting married, you want to plan your wedding, but do not know where to begin—look no further, contact Jet-7 Productions (www.productions-jet-7.com).

Having over 35 years experience, we, at Jet-7 Productions, have made a name for ourselves as experts in wedding planning, and are considered leaders in this field in the Montreal area.

To assist you, Jet-7, offers their mobile disco, ‘turnkey’ service. Our rates include several meetings in order to plan this most important event.

When meeting (at our office), we will detail the sequence of events from entertainment and musical selection to wedding protocol. With an open discussion and based on your wishes, we will help you to realize your dream wedding.

The choice of entertainer/DJ is made according to your taste and specifications. In order to ensure that you have made the right decision in this regard, you are welcome to attend an event hosted by that individual.

Our team will assist you in determining the style of music to be played—a selection that will please both you and your guest.

Also, if required, our lighting professionals will create lighting effects to enhance the setting and music.

Wedding Planner

Our wedding planners will save you time and money while reducing your stress level prior to the ceremony.

Today with our busy lives, it is almost essential to utilize the services of a wedding planner.

Studies indicate that the time spent adequately preparing for one’s nuptials can easily total up to as many as 300 hours.

What is a wedding planner?

A planner is a specialist who will take you by the hand and guide you through all the steps involved in assuring that you have the wedding of your dreams. First, he will help you define the type of celebration you envision.

(and often, will suggest a theme). The planner will assist in establishing a budget and timeframe, as well as find the best suppliers.

On the wedding day, he shall co-ordinate every detail, leaving you to enjoy your big day.

The planner's role is to guide you. He will make suggestions and provide advice. YOU, however, will make all the decisions relative to the event.

What services are offered?

Usually, the planner takes charge of organizing the complete wedding; however, he is also available for a single consultation, or to handle one particular detail. The planner has many contacts, as well as a roster of excellent suppliers who are able to satisfy everyone's tastes and budget. He will help you secure everything required for the event; i.e. gowns, tuxedos, reception hall, invitations, flowers, décor, clergy, caterer, etc. The planner is an inexhaustible source of knowledge and advice! He adapts to your needs and budget. Your only job is to say 'yes',

Are the services of a wedding planner really necessary?

If you have plenty of time and you enjoy planning and organizing, you probably do not need the services of a wedding planner. However, if you do not know where to start and, in addition to being extremely busy, are caught between your wishes and those of your family, a wedding planner may be the answer. His suggestions and advice will save you a great deal of worry! At a time in your life when you want to be happy and carefree, you do not need insignificant problems spoiling your enjoyment. With the flick of a wrist, the planner will handle every detail.

The planner is an experienced professional who will help you find the best suppliers and negotiate reasonable prices.. Engaging the services of a planner is, also, a time saving measure.

Is a wedding planner a luxury?

Amongst the large number of wedding planning specialists available and considering the scope of services offered, you will, without doubt, find a planner to suit your needs and budget. Yes, hiring a planner is an added expense; however, his expertise, combined with the reasonable rates he can command from suppliers, will most certainly afford you savings. And, furthermore, 'peace-of-mind' has no price. Costs vary from agency to agency and according to the services contracted. For a consultation, our hourly rate is
